Passage One

Holiday Accommodation Parks, sometimes referred to as motor camps, are found in towns, resorts and rural areas, and are near a national park and a natural scenic spot. As well as offering power and cabin sites, accommodation can include On-site Caravans, Standard and Kitchen Cabins and Ensuite Units.

Holiday Parks have central facilities for showers, toilets, cooking and laundry and most have recreational facilities such as playgrounds, TV and games rooms. For overnight and camper-bums, and holiday makers, holiday parks provide safe protection for your tent; they can let visitors use rubbish stations, laundry and toilets. Many holiday parks provide self-contained units with en suite facilities and some are fully self-contained with TV, kitchen, bathroom and usually no telephones.

Backpacker hostels are generally independently owned where the emphasis is on getting travellers together. Most offer a mixture of shared rooms (dormitories) which may be single-sex on request. Double, twin and single rooms are also available.

Passage Three

Safety Warning and Notice

Before operating the camera, please make sure that you read and fully understand the content in this section. If you ignore and violate all safety warning notices indicated in this section, the camera warranty may be void. Meanwhile, not only the camera but also you and all other people around you may be severely damaged, injured, or even placed in danger of death.

For your safety: (1) Keep the camera and its accessories out of the reach of babies, toddlers and children. In particular, small parts such as memory cards and batteries could be easily dismantled and swallowed by them. (2) Use only the original accessories to avoid possible risks to health and property. And thus meet all related legal regulations. (3) Do not dismantle the camera under any circumstances. (4) When using the flash, do not go too close to human eyes (particularly for babies, toddlers, and children) or animal eyes. Otherwise, when the flash fires, the light may cause damage to human eyes or irritate animals. (5) Batteries could explode, for instance. All batteries can cause property damage, injury or burns if a conductive material such as jewelry, keys or beaded chains touch exposed terminals. The material may complete an electrical circuit and become quite hot. Exercise care in handling any battery, particularly when placing it inside your pocket, purse, or other container with metal objects. Do not dispose of batteries in fire as they may explode. (6) To prevent electric shock, do not attempt to disassemble or repair your camera by yourself. (7) Some camera models accept non-rechargeable batteries. When using these batteries, do not charge them. Otherwise, dangers such as explosion and fire may occur.

Passage Four

FEED THE BRAIN, BUT LESS SUGAR

While no single factor has been identified as the cause of Alzheimer's, it is thought that lifestyle choices, especially exercise and sleep habits, can have a significant impact on the disease. A study by the Albert Einstein College of Medicine has suggested that lifestyle changes related to healthy aging look "more promising than drug studies." For the last decade or so, researchers have been exploring the link between our modern diet and Alzheimer's disease, specifically the connection between sugar and the disease. A study published in the New England Journal of Medicine demonstrated that even a mild elevation of blood sugar is associated with an elevated risk of dementia. Earlier research had shown that diabetics are more likely to develop Alzheimer's, but more recent research has shed further light on this: finding an intricate link between insulin resistance and the brain.

Our bodies produce insulin that is necessary for the survival of brain cells, but this process goes awry when a toxic protein called ADDL removes receptors from these cells and renders them insulin-resistant.

As the ADDL accumulates, our memory begins to deteriorate.

So what should we be feeding our bodies to give our brain the best chance? A diet low in sugar, rich in whole carbohydrates, nuts and healthy fat is essential. Opt for "real food," avoid processed options and try to keep added sugar levels to a minimum (ideally 15 and 25 grams a day). Add plenty of good fats like avocados, nuts and coconut and other nuts oil to the diet and try a high-quality probiotic to optimise the flora in the gut.
