Part III Reading Comprehension (阅读理解, 40 分, 20×2)

Passage 1

Doctors have known for a long time that extremely loud noises can cause hearing damage or loss. The noise can be the sound of a jet airplane or machines in factories or loud music or other common sounds found at home or at work. A person only needs to hear the noise for little more than one second to be affected.

An American scientist has found that using aspirin can increase the temporary hearing loss or damage from loud noise. He did an experiment, using a number of male students at a university who all had normal hearing. He gave them different amounts of aspirin for different periods of time, and then tested their hearing ability. He found that the students who were given four grams of aspirin a day for two days suffered much greater temporary hearing loss than those who did not use aspirin. The hearing loss was about two times as great. The scientist said millions of people in the United States use large amounts of aspirin and were in danger of suffering hearing loss from loud noise. He said these people face a serious danger of suffering hearing loss from loud noise.

Passage 2

It is exciting to apply for a job that really appeals to you. In making your application, there are a number of points for you to observe.

In your letter of application, say just enough to give a good account of yourself without being wordy. If you are answering an advertisement, any information for which it asks must, of course, be given. This will usually cover your academic record and any further education and training. You may also be asked to give the names of one or two persons to supply references. For this purpose you should choose people who know you well enough to vouch (保证) for your character and ability; and to be polite, you should seek in advance their permission to be named as referees.

It will depend on circumstances how much you can carefully add about yourself. Your purpose is to bring to the notice of the employer any good reason why you rather than any of the other applicants should be chosen for the job. If therefore you feel you have any special skill or talent for the work, or particular interest in the line of business, let it be known.

Finally, there is your use of language. You cannot go wrong if you keep your sentences and paragraphs short, making sure the sense is clear and well-expressed. Choose plain words so long as they convey the meaning.

Passage 3

Homestays provide English language students with the opportunity to speak English outside the classroom and the experience of being part of a British home.

What to Expect

The host will provide accommodation and meals. Rooms will be cleaned and bedcovers will be changed at least once a week. You will be given the house key and the host is there to offer help and advice as well as to take an interest in your physical and mental health.

Accommodation Zones

Homestays are located in London, mainly Zone 2. Most hosts do not live in the town centre as much of central London is commercial and not residential. Zones 3 and 4 often offer larger accommodation in a less crowded area. It is very convenient to travel in London by underground.

Meal Plans Available

* Continental Breakfast * Breakfast and Dinner * Breakfast, Packed Lunch and Dinner

It's important to note that few English families still provide a traditional cooked breakfast. Your accommodation includes Continental Breakfast which normally consists of fruit juice, cereal, bread and tea or coffee. Fruit and cold meat are not normally part of a Continental Breakfast in England. Dinners usually consist of meat or fish with vegetables followed by dessert, fruit and coffee.

Friends

If you wish to invite a friend over to visit, you must first ask your host's permission. You have no right to entertain friends in a family home as some families feel it is an invasion of their privacy.

Self-Catering Accommodation in Private Homes

Accommodation on a room-only basis includes the shared kitchen and bathroom facilities and often a main living room. This kind of accommodation offers an independent lifestyle and is more suitable for the long-stay student. However, it does not provide the same family atmosphere as an ordinary homestay and may not benefit those who need to practise English at home quite as much.

Passage 4

The native Americans, the people we call the "Indians", had been in America for many thousands of years before Columbus arrived in 1492. Columbus thought he had arrived in India, so he called the native people "Indians". The Indians were kind to the early settlers. They were not afraid of them and they wanted to help them. They showed the settlers the new world around them. They taught them about the local crops like sweet potatoes, corn and peanuts. They introduced the Europeans to chocolate and to the turkey and the Europeans did business with the Indians.

But soon the settlers wanted bigger farms and more land for themselves and their families. The more immigrants were coming from Europe and all these people needed land. So the Europeans started to take the land from the Indians. Naturally, when the whites started taking all the Indians' land, the Indians started fighting back. But the whites were stronger and cleverer. Slowly they pushed the Indians into those parts of the continent that the whites didn't want—the parts where it was too cold or too dry or too mountainous to live comfortably. By 1875 the Indians were living in special places called "reservations". But even here the whites took land from them—perhaps the whites wanted the wood, or perhaps the land had important minerals in it, or they even wanted to make national parks there. So even on their reservations the Indians were not safe from the whites.

There are many Hollywood films about the fight between the Indians and the whites. Usually in these films the Indians are bad and the whites are good and brave. But was it really like that? What do you think? Do you think the Indians were right or wrong to fight against the whites?

△ 答案存疑 好老师答案解析将本题错误项标注为“D 改为 the”, 与题干 (a store I told you) 不符; 按语法逻辑应为 D 处缺介词 of/about, 此处按语法订正并存疑。

97. There are around two hundred (A) are (B) woman workers who have been working in this factory for over five years.

1. 现代人的压力越来越大; 2. 减压的方法有很多; 3. 你的看法。

101. 作文题: How to Relieve Stress (至少 120 词)。

参考范文(非官方, 仅供参考) (以下范文由编者依题目材料与要求撰写, 仅供参考, 非官方标准答案, 亦非任何机构公布的范文。) How to Relieve Stress Stress is an inevitable part of our life. Many kinds of big events, such as natural disasters, wars and deaths, can cause great stress. Moreover, on a day-to-day basis, some people may also be faced with stress, resulting from trivial things, such as exams, waiting in line, and having too many things to do within a limited time and so on. When it comes to reducing stress, people vary in their ways. Some people talk with someone, perhaps a friend or a family member, about their anxieties and worries. Others allow themselves a mental "getaway": a quiet country scene painted mentally can divert their attention from the tension of a stressful situation to a more relaxing frame of mind. There are also people who create a sense of peace by reading a good book. As far as I am concerned, when stress does occur, it is important to recognize it and deal with it rather than escape from it.

解析 提纲式作文: 引入(压力无处不在) → 方法(倾诉/心理逃离/读书, 用 Some...Others...There are also... 分层) → 总结(As far as I am concerned)。
